

KEEN MENG CHOY AND ICHIRO SUGIMOTO

THE ECONOMIC HISTORY OF SINGAPORE

“This meticulously documented, clearly written book deftly blends data, economic analysis and historical narrative to provide a comprehensive and rigorous yet accessible account of Singapore’s economic history, on which it will be the definitive work.”

- Linda Lim, University of Michigan

Keen Meng Choy & Ichiro Sugimoto

Singapore’s transformation from a trading port to a global city offers a compelling case study in long-term economic change. The Economic History of Singapore presents a detailed account of the city-state’s evolving economic roles, from regional entrepôt in the fourteenth century, to colonial port city in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, and finally to a global hub for trade, finance, and innovation today.

As the first comprehensive economic history of Singapore, this volume brings fresh insight into the enduring forces that have shaped the city-state’s development, and reflects on its economic future. It will be a valuable resource for students and researchers of Southeast Asian history and economics, as well as general readers interested in the making of modern Singapore.

Hardback | ISBN: 9789813253230 | 508 pp | 16 tables, 33 figures, 6 maps | S$59, US$58

Use discount code EHS20 to get 20% off this title on the NUS Press website until Apr 30 2026.

For enquiries, contact orders.nuspress@nus.edu.sg.

This title will be stocked and distributed by

SOUTHEAST ASIA
APD Singapore Pte Ltd
T +65 6749 3551
E apdacad@apdsing.com.sg
W <http://www.apdsing.com/>

UK, CONTINENTAL EUROPE, AFRICA & THE MIDDLE EAST,
CENTRAL ASIA AND AUSTRALIA
Mare Nostrum Group
T +44 (0)1243 843291
E trade@wiley.com

The AMERICAS
The University of Chicago Press
T (US & Canada) +1-800-621-2736
T (rest of world) +1 (773) 702-7000
E custserv@press.uchicago.edu
W <http://www.press.uchicago.edu>