WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT US

The exchange of views with the IMF and other international experts – whether related to upcoming global challenges or local policy implementation – represented genuine progress toward improved monetary policy in the region.

The training courses reflect the IMF’s own experience globally. That’s why their courses are important to us – the IMF’s global presence makes training, I think, far more effective than that of other organizations.

HOW WE TEACH

1 to 2 weeks intensive courses; diverse classrooms of peers; up-to-date lectures tied to case studies; workshops in small group settings; expert teachers with extensive international experience; electronic teaching aids.

WHO WE ARE

Since its establishment in 1998, the IMF – Singapore Regional Training Institute (STI) has trained more than 14,000 officials from 37 countries in Asia-Pacific. Each year, more than 800 officials participate in STI training held in Singapore, and another 100 to 200 attend STI courses and workshops elsewhere in the region.

WHAT WE DO

The STI serves as an educational hub for learning and knowledge sharing on economic and financial issues. Over the last two decades, it has developed world-leading expertise and draws on an experienced faculty to teach international best practice in economic policy analysis, formulation, and implementation.

The STI’s capacity development work is part of the IMF’s core mandate – along with tracking global economic developments and lending to financially distressed countries.

OUR PARTNERS

The STI is jointly funded by the IMF, the Governments of Singapore, Japan and Australia.
